

Student Case Study Competition in Operations Management!

Team & Registration Instructions

College level students in Operations Management are invited to participate in the 5th Annual Student Case Study Competition sponsored by the Southwest District of APICS, The Association for Operations Management, to be held in San Diego, CA the weekend of February 11-12, 2011.

APICS, a professional organization, builds operations management excellence in individuals and enterprises through superior education and training, internationally recognized certifications, comprehensive resources, and a worldwide network of accomplished industry professionals.

How the competition is funded: The Southwest District raises money from the 15 local chapters in the SW district, from team registration fees, and from corporate and individual donations. The funds collected will provide food and awards to all teams in the District competition. The winners of the undergraduate division will also receive travel assistance to represent the Southwest District of APICS at the 2011 APICS International Conference to be held in the Fall of 2011 in Pittsburgh, PA as part of the APICS Scholars program.

For the District competition, all students will cover their own travel/hotel expenses. We will cover Friday night hospitality, Saturday meals, and awards for all participating teams. In addition, each student on the winning team who is not already a member of APICS will receive $25 with a student application form for APICS membership to insure that they are eligible to participate in the APICS Scholars Program at the 2011 International Conference. In order to get them there and back, each student in the winning first place team who agrees to attend the 2011 APICS International Conference will receive up to $400 to cover transportation expenses.
